comedian and actor Bill Bailey. We continue our series on published authors from the world of dogs in the run up to World Book Day on 2 March and how their canine companions have influenced their work. And, if readers are travelling on the A68 we recommend pulling in, and taking a look at the memorial that remembers Old Hemp, the Border Collie who revolutionised shepherding.

In health matters Ian Seath, Trustee of Dachshund Health UK, explains how important it is to highlight intervertebral disc disease in Dachshunds as the breed has become increasingly popular in the UK. Last year saw the launch of 'Dachtober', the brainchild of Diana Bailey, a fundraising month in support of some of the breed's health and welfare charities. On 9 October Laura Baggott, founder of the Southwold Sausage Walks, organised a dog walk like no other and broke the world record for the number of Dachshunds gathered. The event raised over £2,000 for Dedicated to Dachshunds with intervertebral disc disease. Hear her personal story and what The Kennel Club and Dachshund Health UK are doing to raise awareness of this most common health problem.

In news we hear from the Orkney Native Wildlife Project's team and its newest arrivals on how their role is important to safeguarding the unique and internationally important native wildlife of Orkney, one of our editorial panel reports back on a judging appointment in St Louis, Missouri, and the chance to experience a unique state-of-the-art indoor show facility, the latest political updates and the successful Health and Welfare Conference organised by The Kennel Club that brought together dog health and welfare experts, including scientists, vets, breed club and rescue representatives as well as owners and breeders who discussed significant canine topics.

The Lhasa Apso is our breed of the month. We reveal the origins behind the name and how they were found in monasteries where it gave a warning bark to the monks if any intruders got past the Tibetan Mastiffs tethered outside. We look back at the success the breed has had at Crufts – winning Best in Show twice. Its Breed Health Coordinator explains where the breed is health wise and a particular disease to be aware of, the challenges of Lhasa rescue, plus nine judges choose their three favourite Lhasa Apsos they have in the show ring in Judges' Choice.

Our favourite dog walk this month comes from Liz Ballentine who reveals the many routes that can be taken along the Penciland Railway line. If there is a walk/trail that you would like to share with our readers, please get in touch with the editor on kennel.gazette@thekennelclub.org.uk

Appointment of Interim Chief Operating Officer (Canine Activities)

The Kennel Club is excited to announce that Helen Kerfoot has accepted the new position of Interim Chief Operations Officer (Canine Activities) and will join us in April 2023.

This new position at The Kennel Club will oversee canine activities, part of the role left by Kathryn Mansfield who retired at the end of 2022. The role will also incorporate other canine events such as Crufts, the International Agility Festival and Field Trials, following Events and Education Executive, Vanessa McAlpine's retirement in June.

Mark Beazley, Chief Executive of The Kennel Club said: "Helen brings much knowledge in project management and leadership as well as many years of canine experience including breeding and showing dogs to The Kennel Club and I am very much looking forward to working with her. Helen will begin her work within the canine activities team from April while working alongside Vanessa before she retires in June.

"The Kennel Club has also recently appointed Tom Kelman as our interim Finance Executive and we welcome both Helen and Tom to The Kennel Club."

'Eye for a Dog' assessment bookings open for February

The Kennel Club will be hosting another 'Eye for a Dog' assessment this month for judges wishing to progress to award Challenge Certificates to subsequent breeds via the Judges Education Programme (JEP) route. The assessment will take place on Thursday 16 February at The Kennel Club Building, Stoneleigh. In order to be eligible to take part, a candidate must have been approved for at least one breed and judged them at Challenge Certificate (CC) level.

The Board has confirmed, following a pilot in 2022 and in consultation with the Independent Review Panel, that passing the Eye for a Dog assessment is a one-off mandatory requirement for judges progressing to award CCs to a fourth or subsequent breed if progressing under the JEP route, however the assessment is also available for those judges progressing for a second or third CC breed under the JEP route.

A copy of the Code of Best Practice for the assessment can be found by visiting bit.ly/3Xht8ni

The assessment is available to book at a cost of £25 via thekennelclub.org.uk/shop/events/eye-for-a-dog-assessment (candidates must be logged into their online account) and places will be filled on a first come, first served basis. There are 14 places available for the morning session and 14 in the afternoon. Those judges who have previously taken the assessment and passed it need not take it again.

Enquiries in relation to the Eye for a Dog assessment should be directed to judges.education@thekennelclub.org.uk

Latest updates to The Kennel Club Assured Breeders scheme

The breed-specific health testing and screening requirements and recommendations within the scheme are regularly reviewed following consultations with breed clubs and councils, and with the agreement and oversight of The Kennel Club Dog Health Group, in a collaborative effort to ensure that health and welfare issues are kept at the forefront of what the scheme sets out to achieve: the encouragement of responsible breeding.

The list of breed-specific requirements and recommendations is generally updated twice a year to ensure that they remain relevant and of maximum health benefit to all dogs bred by Kennel Club Assured Breeders. Further tests can be expected to be announced as they are developed.

The most recent updates come into effect immediately. However, existing Assured Breeders have a period of grace of six months to comply with any new requirements and recommendations, to allow them to take account of any existing breeding plans.

The scheme guidelines emphasise the importance of conducting not only the required health tests but the recommended tests too. Results provide data which allow researchers to help develop a picture of how each breed is affected by particular diseases, and how best to improve the health of affected breeds, and develop the best and most cost-effective testing methods.

Breed clubs and breed councils wishing to make changes to the breed-specific requirements and recommendations for their breed should contact their breed health co-ordinator who can then liaise with The Kennel Club Health Team and review available data to support the change.

Bill Lambert, Health, Welfare & Breeder Services Executive at The Kennel Club, said: "The last few years in particular have seen a soaring demand for puppies, reinforcing the importance of signposting puppy buyers to breeders who do all they can to produce healthy puppies.

"The Assured Breeders scheme offers a way to source these breeders, and regular review of the scheme ensures we can continue to maintain maximum progress for dog health improvements and encourage good breeding practices, in order to protect the future of the UK's much-loved dogs."

More information on the Assured Breeders scheme, including the latest list of health testing requirements and recommendations, can be found by visiting thekennelclub.org.uk/abs

Call for participants for University of Cambridge BOAS Research Group

The Kennel Club and the Brachycephalic Obstructive Airway Syndrome (BOAS) Research Group at the University of Cambridge are calling for dog owners to participate in a study to identify the risk of respiratory disease in different brachycephalic breeds, and improve the health and welfare of future generations.

Researchers at the University of Cambridge, funded by The Kennel Club, have been investigating brachycephalic health for the last ten years, and now owners of Affenpinschers, Boston Terriers, Boxers, Cavalier King Charles Spaniels, Chihuahuas, Dogue de Bordeaux, Griffon Bruxellois, Japanese Chins, King Charles Spaniels, Maltese, Pekingese, Pomeranians and Shih Tzus are invited to take part in the study to investigate the extent different breeds might be affected by breathing problems, and to identify any risk factors involved.

The researchers will clinically examine each participant, taking conformational measurements and DNA swabs for future genetic studies, and performing breathing assessments, which may include using whole-body barometric plethysmography (WBBP), a non-invasive technique used to measure respiratory function. Dogs must be aged 12 months or over to participate.

There will also be a quick and non-invasive exercise tolerance test to assess a dog's respiratory function. This is an element of the existing Kennel Club/University of Cambridge Respiratory Function Grading (RFG) scheme currently available for the Bulldog, French Bulldog and Pug, and developed based on research from the University of Cambridge. More information about the existing scheme is available by visiting thekennelclub.org.uk/rfgs

Dr Jane Ladlow, European and Royal College Specialist in Small Animal Surgery and BOAS researcher leading the project, said "Brachycephalic dogs are very popular pets so it's crucial that we better understand the complex and wide ranging factors that lead to some of these dogs being affected by BOAS or other health issues. Those owners who participate will play their part in helping us to understand more about the relationship between respiratory issues and neurological problems, and how these issues relate to the structure of affected dogs.

"Our previous research has shown that the solution to these health problems isn't always simple and that breathing issues in these dogs can vary dramatically, not only between breeds, but within them as well. Our investigations have led to screening schemes that help breeders reduce the risk of producing dogs affected by breathing problems, and we hope that the next steps of our research will help more breeds to do the same, and urge owners to be part of this."

The University of Cambridge's BOAS Research Group is also investigating the internal anatomy of different brachycephalic breeds. To participate, dogs must be four years or older, require dental treatment, and must not have previously had airway surgery. For this study, the researchers are offering free dental treatment, including scale/polish and extractions, for dogs admitted to the Queen's Veterinary School Hospital in Cambridge. Whilst under sedation, the researchers will take a computerised tomography (CT) scan image. Find out more about the study by visiting www.vet.cam.ac.uk/research/boas/dentals-ct-study

If you own any of the following breeds and wish to participate in either study, please contact the researchers directly via brachystudy@vet.cam.ac.uk

- Boxer
- Cavalier King Charles Spaniel
- Chihuahua

KCAI scheme recognised as a City & Guilds accredited programme for sixth year

The Kennel Club has been accredited by City & Guilds as meeting its quality assurance criteria and granted accredited programme status for The Kennel Club Accredited Instructors (KCAI) scheme for a further year. This is the sixth year in succession that the scheme has been recognised.

The purpose of the KCAI scheme is to provide dog owners with a wide and accessible choice of dog training instructors and behaviourists who have proven specialist knowledge, skills and experience.

The KCAI scheme is the first and only scheme for dog training instructors and behaviourists that has achieved programme accreditation from City & Guilds, which is a globally-recognised benchmark of quality. The City & Guilds accredited programme enables The Kennel Club to demonstrate that the processes and delivery of the KCAI scheme meets City & Guilds' quality standards, ensuring that the programme content is always relevant and that its structure and support are of the highest standard.

The Kennel Club hosts webinar for dog show community and announces Breed Watch programme review

The Kennel Club has organised a free webinar about its Breed Watch programme for dog show judges, breeders and exhibitors. Breed Watch serves as an 'early warning system' which monitors the health of pedigree breeds and provides further information about specific health concerns.

The webinar, taking place via Microsoft Teams on Thursday 9 February 2023 6.30pm-7.30pm, will serve as an opportunity for those involved in dog showing to refresh their knowledge of the Breed Watch system, and to help ensure only the best health ambassadors are rewarded highly in the show ring. Those interested in attending the webinar can register by visiting bit.ly/3Zthnw3

The Kennel Club has also announced its plans to work with judges, vets and dog show exhibitors to enhance and evolve Breed Watch to ensure the system is effective in monitoring, protecting and improving the health and welfare of dogs.

As part of this, during 2023 The Kennel Club will be working with the Dog Health Group's Breed Standards and Conformation Sub-group, which includes experienced judges, vets, and exhibitors, to update Breed Watch. Consideration will be given to the following areas:

- What veterinary checks are required before and during shows and what Kennel Club guidance and training is required for the vets involved
- What educational materials are needed to support judges and exhibitors more effectively
- What training would enable judges to recognise breed-specific health concerns
- How The Kennel Club receives health information from judges to improve upon its existing reporting and monitoring processes
- How The Kennel Club receives health information from judges to improve upon its existing reporting and monitoring processes
- How The Kennel Club can provide better support to breed clubs, judges and exhibitors with access to health data from shows

- How The Kennel Club highlights dog showing as a positive lever for change when considering health and welfare

The process will include engagement with exhibitors and breed clubs.

Ian Seath, Chair of the Breed Standards and Conformation Sub-Group, commented: "We are really pleased to be implementing this important development of Breed Watch, alongside the wider community, to ensure it's the best possible system for monitoring the health and welfare of dogs. This underlines our commitment to protecting and improving the health of dogs in the show ring specifically. Regular updates on progress will be provided in due course, and I'd recommend all those involved in showing or judging dogs to attend The Kennel Club's free Breed Watch webinar in February to understand more about how we can all play a part." Amendment to recording of DNA test for Von Willebrand's disease in Irish Red and White Setters

Following a review of the DNA test for von Willebrand's disease (vWD) in the Irish Red and White Setter, The Kennel Club will be withdrawing this as a recognised test for the breed with immediate effect.

The mutation for vWD in Irish Red and White Setters was discovered by the Animal Health Trust in the late 1990s but unfortunately, its details were never published in a scientific journal. Discussions with the current Kennel Club Genetics Centre (KCGC) have brought to light that following the move from the Animal Health Trust, the KCGC will not be able to offer this test in future.

Since the closure of the Animal Health Trust in 2020, the test has not been offered by any other laboratory. Other laboratories may have been offering a vWD test for a number of breeds, including the Irish Red and White Setter, but these tests are not for the Irish Red and White Setter specific mutation, and are not applicable to the breed.

As such, The Kennel Club has removed recognition for DNA tests for vWD in this breed, as there is no opportunity to test for the correct mutation. In addition, a very small number of Irish Red and White Setters that are tested for a different mutation to the one that was previously available from the Animal Health Trust will be removed from The Kennel Club database.

Fortunately, the data records the breed have collated over the years have been reviewed, and The Kennel Club is confident that this condition is not a concern in the breed at this time, and that early selection against the causative mutation was successful.

Given the above, The Kennel Club will also be removing the control scheme for the breed and no longer require this test for the registration of progeny (both for dogs bred in the UK and imported).

This condition will of course be continuously monitored in the breed, and if dogs are found displaying symptoms associated with the Irish Red and White Setter specific mutation within the UK population, The Kennel Club will work with the breed to re-establish this test.

Further information is available by emailing health@thekennelclub.org.uk

This condition will of course be continuously monitored in the breed

Five inspirational young people nominated for major Crufts award

The Kennel Club has revealed the finalists for the prestigious YKC Young Person of the Year award. The accolade celebrates the dedicated, inspirational and selfless actions of young dog lovers, all of whom are members of the Young Kennel Club (YKC).

The YKC Young Person of the Year award is the highest achievement for young people who are passionate about dogs and recognises those who are going above and beyond to help transform the lives of others, as well as encouraging their peers to make a difference with the help of their canine friends.

The winners of each category have been chosen by the YKC judges and will now face a public vote, with the overall winner to be announced at Crufts, on Sunday 12 March.

For over 35 years, the Shaun McAlpine Trophy has been presented to the winner of the award at Crufts, in memory of Ed and Cindy McAlpine's son who was tragically killed in a car accident aged 22. Shaun had himself achieved considerable success as a dog handler.

Previous winners of the annual competition have been selected for their volunteering and fundraising for dog charities, helping to organise dog activities in the local community and for assisting others through training, stewarding and mentoring.

This year's finalists are:

Community Award winner – Jessie Harrison

Celebrating young people who have overcome personal challenges with their dog as well as the skills they have developed to achieve success in 2022.

Jessie Harrison, aged 11, from West Midlands, has overcome extreme anxiety and low confidence to not only achieve her own goals, but has used her experience to help others around her. Having had a difficult time at school, including undiagnosed dyslexia, she turned to dog training in 2019 with her Cavachon, Woody, as an outlet to find confidence. Sadly this was put on pause during Covid but they came back and achieved Good Citizen Dog Gold Award – the highest level of achievement within the scheme. Jessie now uses what she has learnt to help her peers with training their dogs as well, whilst also playing a vital role within a number of charity events, raising money for dog charities.

Personal Achievement Award winner – Izzy King

Celebrating young people who have overcome personal challenges with their dog as well as the skills they have developed to achieve success.

In 2020, Izzy King, now 17, from Kent, was diagnosed with a vascular malformation tumour, for which she is still undergoing treatment at Great Ormond Street Hospital. Not only affecting her physical health, the diagnosis had a huge impact on her mental health, and also resulted in her missing 60% of school time. Despite all these setbacks, Izzy passed all of her GCSEs and is currently studying A Levels, with the ultimate career goal of opening her own canine photography studio.

Izzy has been helped through her illness by MIND, and in 2021 she ran an online dog show, raising £2100 for the charity, to say thank you.

Sporting Talent Award winner – Ryan Feehan

Celebrating young people who show real passion and dedication for competing or training their dog/s in 2022.

At 14, Ryan Feehan, from Great Yarmouth, is the youngest member of his dog agility club (alongside his Jack Russell Terrier, Mitsi). However, he has proven that age is nothing but a number, having achieved grade 7 (the highest level) and travelled to Finland last year to compete as part of the Junior Team GB agility team. Ryan raised funds for this trip by himself, alongside his sister, showing the commitment and passion he has for agility.

Compassion Award winner – Faith Elkins

Celebrating young people who dedicate their time volunteering to help others and gone over and above what would be expected of them in 2022.

At just ten years old, Faith Elkins, from Devon has shown true dedication to her favourite hobby – dog agility, devoting much of her time outside of school to not only taking part in shows with her Cavalier King Charles Spaniel, Cassie, but also to volunteering, proving her competence in all areas of ring management. Despite her age, she has shown a vast amount of knowledge and expertise in agility and always helps out her friends and fellow competitors at shows.

Inspiring Others Award winner – Emer Wright

Celebrating young people and their dogs who, through their positive attitude and inspirational approach, have proved to be a good role model in 2022.

Emer Wright, aged 24, from Ireland has dedicated her life to dogs. Her favourite breed is the Japanese Shiba Inu, which she also owns. As such, she is extremely passionate about both the breed and the world of dogs, and devotes much of her time to encouraging young people to get involved with taking part in activities with their dogs, especially showing. She is Secretary of the Irish Junior Handler's Association of Ireland, a voluntary role, through which she organises events, competitions and fundraisers.

In the last ten years, alongside her dogs she has achieved 16 Irish Champions, 5 International Champions and a UK Champion.

Speaking about the finalists, Vanessa McAlpine, Kennel Club Events and Youth Development Executive said: "We are so proud of these five young finalists, who demonstrate a level of determination, commitment and passion that exemplifies the ethos of the Young Kennel Club.

"It is always such a difficult task to select just five from the many inspirational entries that we receive each year, but everyone who received a nomination should be so proud of their achievements. Our members are such a credit to themselves, their dogs and their families.

"We are looking forward to welcoming our finalists to Crufts and seeing who the public have chosen as the winner of the YKC Young Person of the Year award in March."

The overall winner will be decided via an online vote open to all, which can be found at thekennelclub.org.uk/YKCYPOTY

The finalists in each category have been invited to Crufts 2023 on Sunday 12 March for a special presentation ceremony and each will receive an exclusive YKC ambassador's badge and award. As well as being crowned the YKC Young Person of the Year, there is a prize fund of up to £750 which will be used towards helping the winner progress their love of dogs.

AMENDMENTS TO BREED STANDARDS

CHOW CHOW

At its recent meeting the Board approved the following amendments to the Chow Chow Breed Standard.

Colour Whole coloured black, red, blue, fawn, cream or white, frequently shaded but not in patches or parti-coloured (underpart of tail and back of thighs frequently of a lighter colour). Any colours other than those listed above are highly undesirable.

[Amendments underlined]

BULLDOG

General appearance Smooth-coated. Fairly thick set, rather low in stature, broad, powerful and compact. Head, fairly large in proportion to size but no point so much in excess of others as to destroy the general symmetry, or make the dog appear deformed, or interfere with its powers of motion. Face relatively short, muzzle broad, blunt and inclined upwards although not excessively so. Dogs showing respiratory distress or making excessive respiratory noise highly undesirable. Body fairly short, well knit, limbs stout, well-muscled and in hard condition with no tendency towards obesity. Hindquarters high and strong. Bitches not so grand or well developed as dogs.

Head and skull Skull relatively large in circumference. Viewed from front appears high from corner of lower jaw to apex of skull; also broad and square. Cheeks well rounded and extended sideways beyond eyes. Viewed from side, head appears very high and moderately short from back to point of nose. Forehead flat with skin on and about head slightly loose and finely wrinkled without excess, neither prominent nor overhanging face. From defined stop, a furrow extending to middle of skull being traceable to apex. Face from front of cheek bone to nose, relatively short, skin may be slightly wrinkled. Muzzle short, broad, turned upwards and deep from corner of eye to corner of mouth. Nose and nostrils large, broad and black, under no circumstances liver colour, red or brown. Nostrils large wide and open, with well-defined vertical straight line between. Over nose wrinkle, if present, whole or broken, must never adversely affect or obscure eyes or nose. Pinched nostrils and heavy over nose roll are unacceptable and must be heavily penalised. Distance from inner corner of eye (or from centre of stop between eyes) to extreme tip of nose should not be less than distance from tip of the nose to edge of the underlip. Flews (chops) thick, broad and deep, covering lower jaws at sides, but joining underlip in front. Teeth not visible. Jaws broad, strong and square, lower jaw slightly projecting in front of upper with moderate turn up. Viewed from front, the various properties of the face must be equally balanced on either side of an imaginary line down centre.

Neck Strong, muscular neck, well arched, moderate in length with clear definition between head and shoulders. Some loose, skin about throat, forming slight dewlap on each side.

Body Chest wide, prominent and deep. Back relatively short, strong, broad at shoulders. Slight fall to back close behind shoulders (lowest part whence spine should rise to loins (top higher than top of shoulder), curving again more suddenly to tail, forming slight arch over the loin – a distinctive characteristic of breed. Body well ribbed back with good length of sternum. Belly tucked up and not pendulous. Firm muscular condition highly desirable.

Gait/movement Appearing to trot with short, quick steps on tips of toes, front feet landing just inside width at point of shoulder. Hind feet not lifted high, appearing to skim ground in a semi-circular like motion from inside to out, and tracking virtually behind the front feet. The body weight is transferred from side to side creating the distinctive Bulldog roll. When trotting and viewed from the side correct topline should be maintained. Soundness of movement of the utmost importance.

Colour Whole (solid) colour or 'smut' (whole colour with a black mask or muzzle).

Whole colours are red, fawn, white.

Red or fawn may have white markings i.e. red and white, fawn and white.

Brindle – solid background colour marked with darker stripes: red brindle, fawn brindle. Brindles may have white markings, i.e. red brindle and white, fawn brindle and white.

Pied – white background with markings of any of the above listed colours.

Colours should be brilliant. Any of the colours listed may have dark tips or ticking.

Any other colour or pattern highly undesirable (see introductory paragraph of Breed Standards).

[Amendments underlined]

B8 . Change of Name. Add new sub-para B8 d.

- Notwithstanding the above provisions, the Kennel Club Board reserves the right to amend or cancel a Kennel Club registered name of a dog or a Kennel Name, if appropriate to do so, and in particular, if a registered name or Kennel Name is contrary to any naming requirements for the registration of a dog.

KC File for February

B13 a. Registration. The conditions under which imported dogs may be registered are as follows:-

- (1) Dogs of breeds already fully recognised by the Kennel Club, imported from countries having a Kennel Club with which the Kennel Club has a reciprocal agreement or which has full membership of the FCI or where there is a recognised Stud Book may be entered in the Breed Register. ~~In other cases, such dogs may only be registered at the discretion of the Kennel Club Board.~~
- (2) Dogs of unverified breeding may only be entered in the Breed Register in accordance with Regulation B2c.
- (3) Dogs of breeds not fully recognised for the purposes of the Breed Register may only be

(4) In all cases the Kennel Club requires that the import registration must confirm the true colour of the dog's coat using the Kennel Club's list of registration colour options for the specific breed (rather than the colour recorded with the overseas registry). B13 e.

Provided that in all circumstances the controls on registrations as set out in the B Regulations prevail and pursuant to these Regulations any application for an import registration may be refused if in contravention of these regulations and/or such registration may be subject to cancellation if at a later date it is shown that it was made in contravention to these regulations.

22. Control of Registrations. - add underlined text As a condition of acceptance of the recording or maintenance of a registration made under these Regulations, The Kennel Club Board reserves the right to require that DNA profiles be obtained for the parents/and or all/any puppies involved in a registered litter or for such litter to be satisfactorily verified by DNA parentage testing, or to require a DNA colour test to verify the true colour of a registered dog and/or veracity of a registration, if deemed necessary.

Sharing progress on our new Kennel Club direction in 2023

With a busy January setting up the next stage of The KC Strategy development, we are delighted to share with Club members and members of our dog communities alike, what the first three months of the year will bring.

Sharing our new direction Understanding the needs of the dog activity world

Firstly, we kicked off the new year, continuing to listen to key stakeholders as we promised and it's now the turn of the dog activity world. Our research partner agency, Basis has already conducted a number of telephone interviews speaking with both organisers and participants involved in the vast range of dog activities. They also attended the Ladies Kennel Association show in December and interviewed 16 participants who took part in showing, obedience, agility, heelwork to music, scent, hoopers, rally and have a go. All of which have helped to guide the development of a survey that has been sent to 10,000 people nationwide in January, to provide the Kennel Club with a market sizing overview of how many people take part in dog activities in the UK. This has been followed up with a more detailed survey that has been sent direct to our stakeholders to find out more about their needs and concerns.

We encourage everyone who is emailed a link to take part to share your insights, thoughts and opinions. The deadline is 14 February as we aim to analyse the data and share the insights quickly, continuing to act with pace as promised to both our Board and members. We hope to have the headline data by March and we'll be sharing with members and others across all our communication channels.

Creating groups to look at options for improvement

Following the launch of our strategic direction in December; introducing our new purpose, the six aims that support it and the 11 accompanying projects to ensure we can get those things done, we also spent January setting up a number of groups. The role of these groups is to look at a specific area where we believe The Kennel Club can offer a better service or product. The groups will do several things; identify where changes, could and should be made; understanding what people across all of our dog communities want, checking to see where we are providing that already, and where we need to do better. By getting a wide range of feedback we will only be making changes that people want to see, and that work in practice.

For the Members

These groups are looking at seven areas:

1

The best ways to reform our governance, i.e. how we work and make decisions, at all levels

2

Ways to improve our CRM system and processes for better customer service

3

How we could evolve our registration model and improve the quality of KC Registered dogs

4

Options to better align and strengthen what we do to support dog training

5

Ways that we can improve our Members' experience and potential options to diversify and widen our membership

6

Opportunities to strengthen our financial position and long term sustainability

7

How we can better support and engage with all local clubs, shows and societies, as well as exhibitors and participants

And in addition, a separate project is looking at our member communications and how we can communicate with all in engaging and easy ways.

To give ourselves the best possible chance of succeeding we need to make sure we have the right people, in these groups, and that we bring in extra experts at the right time. So each of the groups is made up of a wide array of people with different experience and expertise, including Board Directors, Executives, staff members, committee members, as well as external stakeholders. The groups are gathering information to understand what the best looks like and identify any opportunity for improvement. They'll also check to see what other information we need to understand the opportunity fully and find people with that knowledge to help us. The groups are all now established and making progress on looking at options. We very much hope to be able to give you an update on the sorts of areas they are looking at, and the options we are considering before they make recommendations to the Board in March and April. Each improvement project will be approved by the Board and members where required.

Implementation will come later when we understand what needs to be done, in which order and where the links are between the groups. And we are fully committed to keeping you up to date in a number of ways throughout 2023.

Members and Community Communications in 2023

Which is where the Members Communication Project comes in. The feedback we have heard from our members over the last few months is they appreciate the increased level of communication regarding the strategy, that they prefer shorter, concise communications, in the main most prefer emails although we do understand a number of people still prefer communications through the post.

We also understand that sometimes people miss important updates due to lack of time, or too many emails from us. Helped by an informal forum of Members to get our communications even better, we are trialing a summary "signpost" that provides an overview of all the most important stories. Do look out for it in your inbox and postbox. We'll be sharing important planning updates and directing you to key developments in our dog world. And we promise it will be short and concise! We're also trying hard to make it as jargon-free as possible.

Planning for 2023 Roadshows

We're also planning for more roadshows in 2023, more virtual meetings and opening our doors to be more inclusive to our wider communities. We'll be sharing the dates for those in the coming weeks and we look forward to welcoming you to them.

Do look out for our updates in March and April where we will be sharing more about the work of the Design Groups, sharing the roadshow dates planned for this year, and when and where we will be visiting dog shows and activities for more informal conversations. It promises to be a busy year!

The Kennel Club Accredited Instructors Scheme

The Kennel Club Accredited Instructors (KCAI) Scheme offers its members the opportunity to gain a nationally-recognised vocational accreditation based on a robust standard set by the Kennel Club. It is the first and only scheme for dog training instructors and behaviourists that has achieved programme accreditation from City & Guilds, a globally-recognised benchmark of quality.

This section of the Kennel Club Journal is dedicated to KCAI Scheme members. It provides information on the resources available to members, announcements on newly awarded Kennel Club Accredited Instructors, and KCAI Scheme news and updates.

For more information on the KCAI Scheme, please visit: www.kcai.org.uk
